

Free and objective press is essential to keeping democracy healthy. When a media corporation decides to use its muscle for propaganda, our democracy is weakened. Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary just a few days before election provides a good example of the adverse consequences of media consolidation.

If corporations like Sinclair Broadcasting and their affiliated stations do not serve the public interest, local stations should not get their licenses renewed.